A FEE FOR EACH BODY BURIED.

ACTION OF THE NEWTOWN HEALTH BOARD. UNDERTAKERS INDIGNANT-A MEETING IN BROOK-

At a special meeting of the Newtown Health Board, heid on December 22, it was decided that after next Sanday no body of any person dying at any place outside that town should be interred in any of the dozen or more cemeteries within its limits without a permit from the clerk of the Newtown Health Board, which document could only be obtained on the payment of $1. A violation of this rule was made punishable by a fine of $100, which the supervisor of the town is authorized to collect. The members of the Board stated at the time that this step was taken for purely sanitary reasons, but, of course, it was well understood that it was in part reprisal for damage already caused by the cemeteries. As over thirty thousand bodies are annually buried in the several cemeteries the revenue thus derived would be large.

This action roused great indignation among the undertakers of this city and Brooklyn, and it was generally denounced by them as unlawful and something that could never be carried out. They wrote to the State Health Board in reference to the matter and a reply was received from Dr. Carroll, the secretary stating that the only burial permit required was from the health authorities of the place where the death had occurred and that such a one had always been honored at all cemeteries. No fee was ever charged for permits and he knew of no authority for requiring payments for them. "But," he added in conclusion." local health boards can enact sanitary regulations governing burials in their own domain."

The first part of the letter suits the undertakers, domain."

The first part of the letter suits the undertakers, but the final phrase is construed by the Health Board as favorable to its side of the case. The members of the Board say that they will permit no bedies to be buried until the money is paid. Special officers will be stationed at the cemeteries next Sunday to carry out this order. No concerted action has yet been taken on the question by the New-York undertakers nor will there be until next Tuesday evening, which is the regular meeting night of their society. In the meantime they will pay the fee. A prominent uptown undertaker said last evening:

"I am inclined to think that the Health Board is right. One-third of Newtown is taken up by the cemeteries and no tax received from them. This seems hardly fair. I believe that they have a perfect right to impose this tribute, and I for one shall pay right to impose this tribute, and I for one shall play it."

The superintendents of the various cemeteries said that they could say nothing until their trustees had taken action in regard to it.

The Brooklyn undertakers held a special private meeting in Everett Hall last evening, but refused to say what decision they had reached in reference to the new law. The following is a list of the principal cemeteries in the town of Newtown:

Calvary, St. Michael's, Linden Hill, Methodist German Episcopal, Lutheran, St. John's, part of Mapie Grove, part of Cypress Hills, Rodif Scholem, part of Evergreen, Union Fields, Mount Olivet, part of Portuguesse.

The application of the St. Michael's Cemetery Association for an additional grant of one bundred and ten acres in the town of Newtown for cemetery purposes, was discussed at the meeting of the Queens County Board of Supervisors yesterday and

DID MAYOR WHITNEY BREAK HIS WORD? H. B. SCHARMANN DECLARES THAT HE DID-THE MAYOR SAYS HE IS INSULTED.

MAYOR SAYS HE IS INSULTED.

The new Brooklyn Mayor, Mr. Whitney, has already found that there are thorns in his way, and that the sole power of appointing the heads of departments is by no means easy to exercise. He is beset throughout his office hours by men who urge the appointment of their friends and appeal to all possible motives to influence the Mayor's action. An exciting scene yesterday surpassed anything known in the City Hall since the days of the famous "Shannon deal." A number of lager beer brewers, headed by H. B. Scharmann, called on Mr. Whitney at noon to urge the appointment of Peter P. Huberty as one of the Excise Commissioners, as a representative of the German-Americans of the city, many of whom were led to vote for Mr. Whitney by a promise which Mr. Scharmann claims the candidate made to him that he would consult him about the appointment of Excise Commissioners. Mr. Scharmann received a letter on December 26, from the Mayor-elect saying that he would appoint John Schliemann as one of the two Excise Commissioners. At the interview yesterday a petition in layor of Mr. Huberty was handed to the Mayor, signed by all the brewers of the city. Mr. Whitney said that he would receive it with pleasure.

Mr. Scharmann, who was evidently greatly excited, began to accuse the Mayor of bad faith toward him. He said that he had reason to believe that the brewers would be consulted about the appointment, from a conversation with Mr. Whitney two days after his nomination. He told his colleagues that Mr Whitney would do as well as if not better than Mayor Low, and gave his word to the effect that they would be consulted in the appointment.

"If you appoint one of those mentioned in your pointment.

"If you appoint one of those mentioned in your letter to me," continued Mr. Scharmann, "he will not be satisfactory to us and I shall feel that my word has not been kept. We want a German-American appointed as one of the Commissioners according to your agreement."

The Mayor retorted that he never promised to appoint the man named by Mr. Scharmann, but had promised to consult him and had done so.

"You have not." angrily returned the irate brewer, "and my name is as good as that of any man in Brooklyn."

brewer, "and my name is as good as that of any man in Brooklyn."

As Mr. Scharmann grew red in the face, the Mayor grew pale. He walked up to the brewer and said: "I am sorry you should come here to tell me I lie. I am so astonished that I hardly know what to say. You have insulted me."

"You can take it as you like," said Mr. Scharmann, and he repeated what the Mayor told him before the election. The Mayor again asserted that he was astonished and insulted and would have nothing more to say to Mr. Scharmann. The efforts of the others to pacify the Mayor were fruitless and he positively declared that he would not appoint Mr. Huberty, and if Mr. Schlieman was not a proper man he would not make him a Commissioner. But he did not propose to be insulted or brow-beaten by any one, and would appoint no man that Mr. Scharmann wanted.

HELD FOR ABDUCTING A YOUNG GIRL.

Minnie Vancaryzeele, the pretty thirteen-yearold girl who disappeared from her home. No. 219 East Intry-fourth-st. on Monday, and who was believed to have been abducted, was found by the police yesterday. She had been toid to take a message to her father, who is a waiter in the Hotel Normandie, but she went instead to the store of Simpson. Crawford & Simpson in Sixth-ave, and inquired for a gold watch which her father had left there to be repaired. Being told that the watch had not been finished she left the store. Yesterday Captain Williams sent an officer with a member of the family to look for the girl. Late in the afternoon they met Minnie and a young woman with blonde hair walking along Sixth-ave. Minnie said that she had been taken to a house by the woman and kept all night. The woman said that she was Kitty Wright, a respectable married woman living at No. 107 Clinton place.

"I met this girl in Fourtceenth-st, last night," she said, "and she was crying. She told me she had no home to go to, and as she was wet and hungry I took her home with me and gave her food and shelter for the night." Captain Williams decided to detain the woman until the case had been investigated. Minnie said that she met Mrs. Wright in Fourzeenth-st, and went with the woman willingly. At the house in Clinton place, she said, the woman's husband, gave her some hot whiskey to drink and she safterwar, went to sleep. Henry Wright, the woman's husband, was arrested lastevening and he and his wife were locked up on a charge of abduction.

The house No. 107 Clinton place contains a number of separate rooms which are let furnished for light housekeeping. The landlady said to a TRIBUNE reporter: "Mrs. Wright and her husband have occusionally two or three days at a time.
Sometimes Mrs. Wright has gone to visit her people in Jersey City, and has remained away from her room a night or so, but as a rule she has remained in the room most of the time. So far as I am able

TWO BODIES CREMATED AT MT. OLIVET.

The incineration of the body of George Philip Beschor, former Hauseatic Consul at Greytown, Nicaragua, at the Fresh Poud Crematory, yesterday, was witnessed by a crowd of people. Among them were Fernando C. Valentine, the Guatemalan Consul-General; Reina Barrios, Minister from Guatemala; Colonel Aquitar, secretary of the legation; Professor Friedlander, Francis Fast, Dr. John H. Herrmanu, president of the St. Louts Cremation Society, and a delegation of New-York undertakers. The body had been in one of the vanits of the institution since Friday and was placed in the retort without any ceremonies about 10 o'clock. The building was full of or siders whom the announcement of a public cremation had stiracted to the place. It was 3 o'clock before the crate was withdrawn, and even after five hours of burning the ashes contained many large lumps of apparently charred bones or some substance closely resembling them. Attogether the cremation was not so successful as some of the former ones. President Cobb stated that the ashes will be sent to the friends just as they come from the retort, or they will be prepared and picked over as the relatives may desire.

As soon as Mr. Beschor's ashes had been removed from the retort, the body of Mrs. Richardson was placed in the same receptacle. Several relatives of the Gead woman were present. TWO BODIES CREMATED AT MT. OLIVET.

TO FORM A LUMBERMEN'S EXCHANGE. TO FORM A LUMBERMEN'S EXCHANGE.

A meeting of the lumber dealers of New-York was held yesterday afternoon at the Grand Central Hotel to coasider the advisability of forming a Lumbermen's Exchange. Those present were unanimous in the opinion that some nort of a lumber exchange was necessary. A. T. Decker, a dealer in yellow pine, at Bothune-st, and the North River, presided and J. D. Crary, of No. 72 Wall-st., was appointed scoretary. A. W. Budlong, of Twenty-second-st. and Eleventh-ave., was one of the projectors of the meeting. He said that all the other business interests in New-York were organized, while the lumber dealers were obliged to work in the dark, at odds with one another. The local trade in lumber, to say nothing of the export trade, was from $60,000,000 to $65,000,000 a year greater than that in cotton. Cities like Albany, Buffalo, Cleveland, Chicago, had lumber exchanges.

After some general debate the dealers present agreed to sign their names to a call for a meeting next Tuesday at 3:30 p. m., at the Grand Central Hotel, at which some definite arrangements will be made for an organization. The first names on the call are A. W. Budlong, Crane & Clark, of Thirteth-st. and Eleventh-ave., J. E. Ackerman & Co., of Twenty-ainth-st. and Eleventh-ave., and J. M. Reamer, of No. 177 Broadway.

THE LOSS OF LIFE IN THE AQUEDUCT.

The Aqueduct Commissioners on December 17 considered a resolution providing that, in view of the loss of life that had afreedy occurred, the Chief Engineer should cause a thorough examination of the work and report to the Comutasion every case where the provisions of the contracts to insure safety to life are not rully complied with. In all such cases he was to give and enforce the necessary orders to insure full compliance with the terms and intent of the contracts in this particular. The contracts provide that in the construction and use of the shafts the contractors shall properly curb and thoroughly support the sides of the shafts; that for lowering and hoisting men and materials the best appliances shall be used; that all losse rose shall be removed, and the roof and sides of the tunnels properly timbered when decimed necessary, and that only competent men shall be employed to do the work. There was some hesitation on the part of the Commissioners in passing the resolution until it had been submitted to the Counsel to the Corporation. He gave an opinion yesterday that the resolution was proper. The resolution was ununimously passed by the Commission. A NEW ELEVATED RAILROAD STATION.

A NEW ELEVATED RAILROAD STATION.

The arrangement of the Elevated Railroad station at the Grand Central Station is a source of great anusement to the cabmen and loafers in that neighborhoon. The absent-minned passenger comes down the street and finds the old starway on the north side of Forty-second-st gone. Then he rushes over to the south side and finds the entrance locked and barred. If not too badly shaken up by this state of things he reads the notice informing him that the entrance is through the Grand Central Station, and after wandering up the stairs in the new part of the station finally gets to the cars. This arrangement is a great benefit to the passengers who come into the city by the trains, however, and to those who are going out of town.

DR. BRISTOR HELD FOR THE GRAND JURY.

DR. BRISTOR HELD FOR THE GRAND JURY.

Wagons and carriages from all parts of Rockland County stood around the Spring Valley House at Spring Valley yesterday, and crowds of people lingered in and about the building discussing the Bristor case. Shortly after 10 o'clock Justice H. B. Fenton began a private examination of Ida Downes, the girl who accuses Dr. Bristor of assaulting her. Ida's sworn statement reiterates in detail the charges already published. Referring to the retractions. Ida said: "Both retractions were taken from threats. I made them because I thought it would save Mr. Bristor." The witness broke down, sobbed hysterically and almost fainted.

Mrs. Satterlee next verified many of Ida's statements, and said that Ida told her immediately after the first retraction: "I took it all back, but no, he did do it; by my Jesus it is true, and as soon as I get out of this house I shall be able to speak the truth." The hearing lasted until 1:30 p. m. when Justice Fenton issued a warrant for the arrest of the Rev. Dr. George R. Bristor on a charge of felonously assauiting Ida Downes. Armed with the warrant Constable Charles B. Fisher went to the parsonage and arrested Dr. Bristor, who returned with him. The clergyman was accompanied by his brother and was unusually calm. He pleaded not guilty, waiving examination subject to the action of the Grand Jury. Justice Fenton inxed the bonds at $1,000, and George W. Wood and William H. Seaman, two members of his church, became securities.

The clergyman then returned to the parsonage apparently unmoved by the sconful and anary demonstrations of the crowd. It was said that Dr. Bristor has sourced the services of ex-Judge Fulierton as his counsel. Ida Downes was accompanied by friends from the Brooklyn Orphan Asylum and returned at night to that institution. The Grand Jury will meet on January 26.

SUIT AGAINST A STEPMOTHER.

A suit was begun in the Circuit Court in Jersey City yesterday to recover $10,000 for injuries sileged to have been inflicted by Catherine Ratzer upon her stepdaughter, age nineteen. The young woman was carried into court and laid upon a lounge with a pillow under her head. She was restless and seemed to be suffering from a nervous trouble. She is the daughter of a wholesale dealer in brewery grains who has accumulated a great deal of money in the business. He married a second time in 1873, and at that time the plaintiff was living with her grandparents. She went to live in her father's house in 1880, and she alleges that from the nour she entered the house until she left it again in 1883 her stepmother carried on a systematic and virusent persecution of her. She was compelied to do the most menial work for her stepbrothers and sisters and was frequently starved and beaten. The culminating act of cruelty which led to the suit was on February 11, 1883, when a friend herited her tog to a courch fair. Catherine asked her stepmother if she could go, but she was refused. A dispute aroac between mother and daughter, which resulted, as alleged, in Mrs. Raizer's seizing a heavy chair and brosking it over the zir's nead. She sank to the floor, and her mother continued to beat her on the head and body with a piece of the broken chair. Catherine struggled to her feef, and with blood streaming from wounds ran into the kitchen and fell fainting at the recondition is said to be such from the liquy to her head that she is incapable of caring for herself. TWO COLORED PASTORS FOR ONE CHURCH.

The congregation of the Bethel African Methodist Episcopal Church are convulsed over the rival claims of the Rev. W. A. Merrill and the Rev. Mr. Pinckney to the pastorate. The former was appointed pastor in July, 1881, affd his term will not expire until next April. The membership numbers forty, or whom thirty-one were born in the North and nine in the South. Domnie Merrill was born in the North and the Southern members of his congregation have been endeavoring to get rid of him. The Rev. Mr. Derrick, who is from the South, recently became the presiding cider, and later Mr. Merrill received a letter assigning him to a mission in Pennington, N. J. When he went there he found the mission occupied. Returning at once he was surprised at finding Mr. Pinckney in possession of the fort, backed by a possal eard from Mr. Derrick appointing him in Mr. Merrill place. Mr. Merrill told him he would have to leave the church. The following Sunday both dominies mounted the pulpit, and Mr. Pinckney ordered Mr. Merrill to leave it, at the same time calling on the congregation to support him. The nine from the South were not present, and Mr. Pinckney himself was obliged to vacale. Last Sunday trouble was expected, but Mr. Pinckney did not appear and Mr. Merrill assured the congregation, which constated of four, that he would never give in. In the evening Mr. Pinckney was on hand, but so were two policemen and no razors were drawn. TWO COLORED PASTORS FOR ONE CHURCH.

The following most delicately worded "per-onal" attracted a TRIBUNE reporter's attention yestersonal attracted a Tribune reporter's attention yesterday:

If the parties who by mistake carried off six coats from 27 East 40th-st, will return the papers they will be fiberally rewarded; no important questions asked; the papers are of no value to any one but J. Hart.

"I never expect to see the papers again," said Mr. Hart when asked about the matter. "The thieves entered my house at night and took the overcoats of myself and sons off the harrack, but, curiously enough, touched nothing class. Among the papers were important business letters, the contents of which I have forgotten, while my correspondents are claimoring for answers. I wish THE TRIBUNE would say something about the rights of peaceable citizens to sufficient police protection. I don't wish to insinuate anything against the officers of the Ninetconth Precinct. It is the city that is to blame. This is an unusually large preemet, but because it is an unusually large preemet, but because it is an unusually quiet and law-abiding one, we have an unusually small number of officers, so that, while a patrolinant seovering his four-nile boat, the thieves have an hour or two to collect all the booty they want. Every time we leave anything out in our back yards, a clean sweep is made before morning. The family of my neighbor, Mr. Dillon, left some fars and sliks out one night by mistake, and had to lay in an entirely new stock in consequence. Seme house is regularly broken into every night about here, I think we pay taxes enough in this part of the town to have a right to protection while we sleep."

DEDICATING A UNIVERSALIST CHURCH. At the dedication of the Third Universalist Church in West Eleventh-st, near Sixth-ave, last even-ing, the responsive service was conducted by the Rev. B. A. Gardner, the former paster of the church, and the invocation delivered by the Rev. W. E. Gibbs, of Buffalo. The Rev. W. S. Crowe, of Newark, preached the sermon, choosing as his subject "Eternal Punishment," This "popular defusion," he said, "was known by the orthodox Church at different times as eternal misery, eternal punishment, eternal misforume, and now in the Nineteenth Century it was caided eternal doom." The building was purchased two years ago by the Old Bleecker Street Seelety, as the congregation was then known. The pastor, the Rev. T. W. Illman, announced that it was entirely free from debt.

THE WARNER-WORK INDICTMENT. ARGUMENTS ON THE DEMURRER-MR, DORSHEIMER DEFENDS HIMSELF.

ARGUMENTS ON THE DEMURERER—MR. DORSHEIMER

DEFENDS HIMSELF.

The court rooms in the Federal Building were all filled yesterday with the trais of various causes and Judge Benedict, holding the criminal branch of the Circuit Court, adjourned to his private chamber, followed by the counsel, Measts. Dorsheimer, Root, Biss and Carter, who had propared to argue the domurrer to the indictment against William S. Warner and J. Henry Work, charsed with aiding Ferdinand Ward to defraud the Marine National Bank. James C. Carter, who had travelled all night from the South to be present, began the argument in support of the domurrer lie said that the indictment charky giving a check for $71,800 when he knew that he had not the money in the bank to meet it. All the offence charged was the drawing of the check. There was, he cause the act which was charged eaglinst anybody, because the act which was charged eaglinst anybody, because the act which was charged that Role pretences accompanied the giving of the check. Ward committed no breach of trust, and there was certainly no trust betrayed by Work and Warner. Mr. Carter referred to the travity of trust, and there was certainly no trust betrayed by Work and Warner. Mr. Carter referred to the travity of trust hey were not included in the charges." District-Attorney Dorsheimer excitedly asked upon what such an assertion was based. Mr. Carter said that he had no reference to a particular act.

"Thom it to mere scandai," said Mr. Dorsheimer, striking the table with his fist.
Colonel Bliss said that those courts that charged Ward, Work, and Warner with missphylning money of the bank with intent to injure General Ulysses S. Grant seemed to have no foundation, as there was nothing to indicate how General Grant could possibly have been defrauled by Work and Warner with missphylning money of the charges with defracining one Yun-Yun.

Elihu Root opened the argument in support of the indictions, he contended that the transaction of drawing the check had been done by Ward as an individual

An application to release William C. Cooper from the Ladiow Street Jall, where he is confined for contempt of court in disobeging an order to pay his wife. Lillian Cooper, $7 a week alimony and $250 counsel fee pending his suit against her for an absolute divorce, was before Judge Van Brunt yesterday. 8. G. Derrickson suid that Cooper was without means and that his relatives, who had promised to aid him, had failed to do so, so that he could not comply with the order. Issae L. Sink opposed the motion, saying that Cooper had condoned his wife's inidelity and that she had been compelled to separate from him on account of his habits and was obliged to support herself and two children, as he refused to provide fer his family. He had promised to pay the alimony and counselfee and had then sold out his nusiness and left the State without doing so. While on a vivit to this city detectives caught him and he was put in jail. The Justice reserved his decision. An application to release William C. Cooper

Carl Theiss, proprietor of Theiss's concerthall in Fourteenth-st, was directed yesterlay by the vectiet of a lary in the City Court, before Chief Justice McAdam, to pay $500 to Robert Lichtenteis, who swore that on March 14, 1885, Theiss kicked him out of his place, severely injuring him. Theiss swore that he had never seen the young man in his life and was sick at home when the assault was alleged to have occurred. In this his wife corroborated him. Theiss was asked if there was not "a bouncer" in places like his. This was objected to, "I sustain the objection," said the judge. "When a complaint is made against a "bouncer," then I will see to it that the bouncer is bouncer if he deserves it." The jury gave the plaintiff one-quarter of the $2,000 which he asked for.

PUZZLED BY THE EVENING STAR.

Amateur star-gazers of late have noticed in the evening an unusually large luminary over the western horizon. Opinions have been evenly divided as to whether it was an electric light hung from a balloon, a new system for street-lighting for the the clouds, the Heil date Light-house gone astray or the evening star. The cabmen about Madlson Square got up a pool and wagered their hard-earned tips on the correctness of their respective explanations of the phenomenon. They left the decision to Vice-President Johnson of the Edison Company. After giving to the matter mature consideration and to the public his official assurance that his company is in no way mixed up in the affair, Mr. Johnson has awarded a verdict, with damages, to the advocates of the evening star.

OIL RECOMMENDED FOR STORMY SEAS. The Pilot Chart of the North Atlantic Ocean, for January, just issued by the Hydrographic Burean of the Navy Department, contains much valuations to be expected during the month. The predictions are that the sterm area on the North Atlantic is at its maximum. Between the constnorth of Cape Hatterns and that of Europe, north of 47° latitude, a gale may be expected once in six days. Heavy northers may be expected along the gulf coast of Mexico and Texas as often as once in ten days; some may extend as far east as Key West and south over the Caribbean Sea to Aspinwall. A portion of the margin of the chart is devoted to condensed reports of masters of vessels upon the value of the use of oil to lessen the dangerous effects of heavy seas. These reports all point to the greatest efficacy with canvas bags filled with oakun saturated with oil towed in the water. The use of mineral oil is not recommended.

YOUNG MRS. MURRAY SAILS FOR ENGLAND.

Mrs. Joicey Murray, the sixteen-year-old wife of G. F. Murray, who has been detained as an unwilling witness against her hasband who shot her a few weeks ago, is no longer a cause of trouble to the authorities. Her husband, who is a medical student, found that while he was absent from the city his wife had left her hotel and hed led a dissolute life. After the shooting she accused him of attempting to kill her, but more recently she has denied that her husband intended to injure her. She says that he showed her the pastol and that afterward, while they were both excited, it was discharged in some way.

The young woman's mother arrived from England on Saturday and has since had several interviews with her daughter. District-Attorney Martine, to whom the papers in the case were sent, has taken much interest in the affair. He consulted the young woman, who had been placed in charge of Eibridge T. Gerry, and made up his mind that it would be impossible to convict the husband. The mother finally induced the daughter, whose mind she thought had been somewhat affected, to rejurn to England, and Mr. Martine sent one of his officers to see that they were safely placed on the steamer Arizona. The complaint against Murray will be dismissed.

SERVICES OF THE WEEK OF PRAYER. YOUNG MRS. MURRAY SAILS FOR ENGLAND.

SERVICES OF THE WEEK OF PRAYER.

The business men's prayer-meeting in the John Street Methodist Episcopal Church was well attended yesterday noon. The Rev. Dr. G. F. Pentecost conducted the services and George C. Stebbirs led the singing. After Dr. Pentecost had spoken for a few moments many of those present told their religious experiments many of those present told their religious experience.

At the Madison Square Presbyterian Church the Rev. Dr. J. M. Dickson, of the Thirty-fourth Street Reformed Church, led the meeting. His remarks were on the character of national and individual sins, the attitude of man to Christ, and his lack in protherly kindness and charity to fellow-man. There is, he urged, a lack of zeal in missionary work at home and abroad. All these are subjects of humiliation to the Christian.

The Rev. Dr. C. S. Robinson, of the Memorial Presbyterian Church, addressed the meeting at the Central Presbyterian Church.

ABOLISHING THE BUREAU OF PERMITS.

Mayor Grace has decided practically to abol-Mayor Grace has decided practically to abolish the Permit Bureau, and will soon send to the Legislature a bill abolishing the bureau in fact. He gave orders yesterday that no more permits should be given for signs, sign posts, awnings and awning posts, street stands, barber poles, storm doors, skids to cross the gutters, etc. Hereafter permits will simply be given for dog licenses and for hoisting safes under a recent ordinance of the Aldermen. The Mayor thinks that the work heretofore done by the Bureau of Permits and the Bureau of Incumbrances can be done by one bareau. The Mayor said that he would dismiss the corps of inspectors and all but one or two of the clerks and the head of the bureau. This will effect a saving to the city of several thousand dollars, but on the other hand the city will lose a little more than this in the way of revenue from the sale of licenses.

George Hampton, an English butler in the employ of William Kent, at No. 391 Fifth-see, committed suiede in the house yesterday. Nothing unusual was noticed in his behavior when he left his room early in the morning to superlittend the preparation of breakfast, but he returned to his room at 7 o'clock and soon cut his throat with a rozor. Hampton came to this city from England seven years ago and had been in Mr. Kent's employ for twe years. He was thirty-seven years of age and had a wife and two children living at Pelham Bridge. Lately his wife had been ill and he had exhibited some signs of insanity, but he hid been a faithful servant and Mr. Kent'had no intention of discharging him. SUICIDE OF A FIFTH AVENUE BUTLER.
